Fourth international GreenDay took place in June

GreenDay 2015 - high-tech engineering and sustainable business practice

As part of their annual GreenDay on 5 June, ebm-papst A&NZ has invited businesses located in the Western suburbs of Melbourne (ebm-papst A&NZ is located in Laverton North) to join them to learn more about combining high-tech engineering with practices of sustainable production and business.

The event was intended as a networking and information opportunity for Melbourne-based small to medium enterprises, with room to exchange ideas that help grow business and protect the environment.

Presentations were held by members of Sustainability Victoria on their materials efficiency program, Western Alliance for Greenhouse Action and the Low Carbon West initiative, Will Richardson (Impact Investment Group) and Alicia Darvall (BCorp) on 'Doing Business for Profit and for Good', and others.

The GreenDay is an international campaign of all global ebm-papst subsidiaries. Around
