ebm-papst A&NZ ranked among top 10 companies for CSR third year running

For the third year in a row, ebm-papst A&NZ was ranked among the top 10 companies for Corporate Social Responsibility. This year's results highlighted the importance of a 'social licence' to ensure survival for Australian businesses.

ebm-papst was ranked together with major players in the engineering, manufacturing services and non-profit sector such as Arup, PWC, The Walt Disney Company and NAB.

With strong internal leadership and community-focused founding values, the company is grateful to be acknowledged for their continued efforts to make a positive difference in the world. ebm-papst A&NZ Managing Director Dr Simon Bradwell: "CSR for ebm-papst A&NZ is the way we show up – at work with our colleagues, with clients and stakeholders, and in all ways which impact our community. I am proud of the team and the guys who get up every day and come to work at ebm-papst to do what we do. We aim to make a difference in people's lives and that takes a willingness for people to take responsibility. That is not an easy thing, and so working together as "one ebm-papst" makes that possible."

The Annual Review of the state of CSR in Australia and New Zealand is the longest-running study of corporate social responsibility and sustainability practices, trends and capabilities in Australasia and celebrates its 10th year in 2018.

ebm-papst A&NZ has taken part in the study for a third year, with employees joining 1,107 professionals in completing the online survey. It was noted that the result is a tribute to the work ebm-papst A&NZ have done to embed CSR within the organisation.
